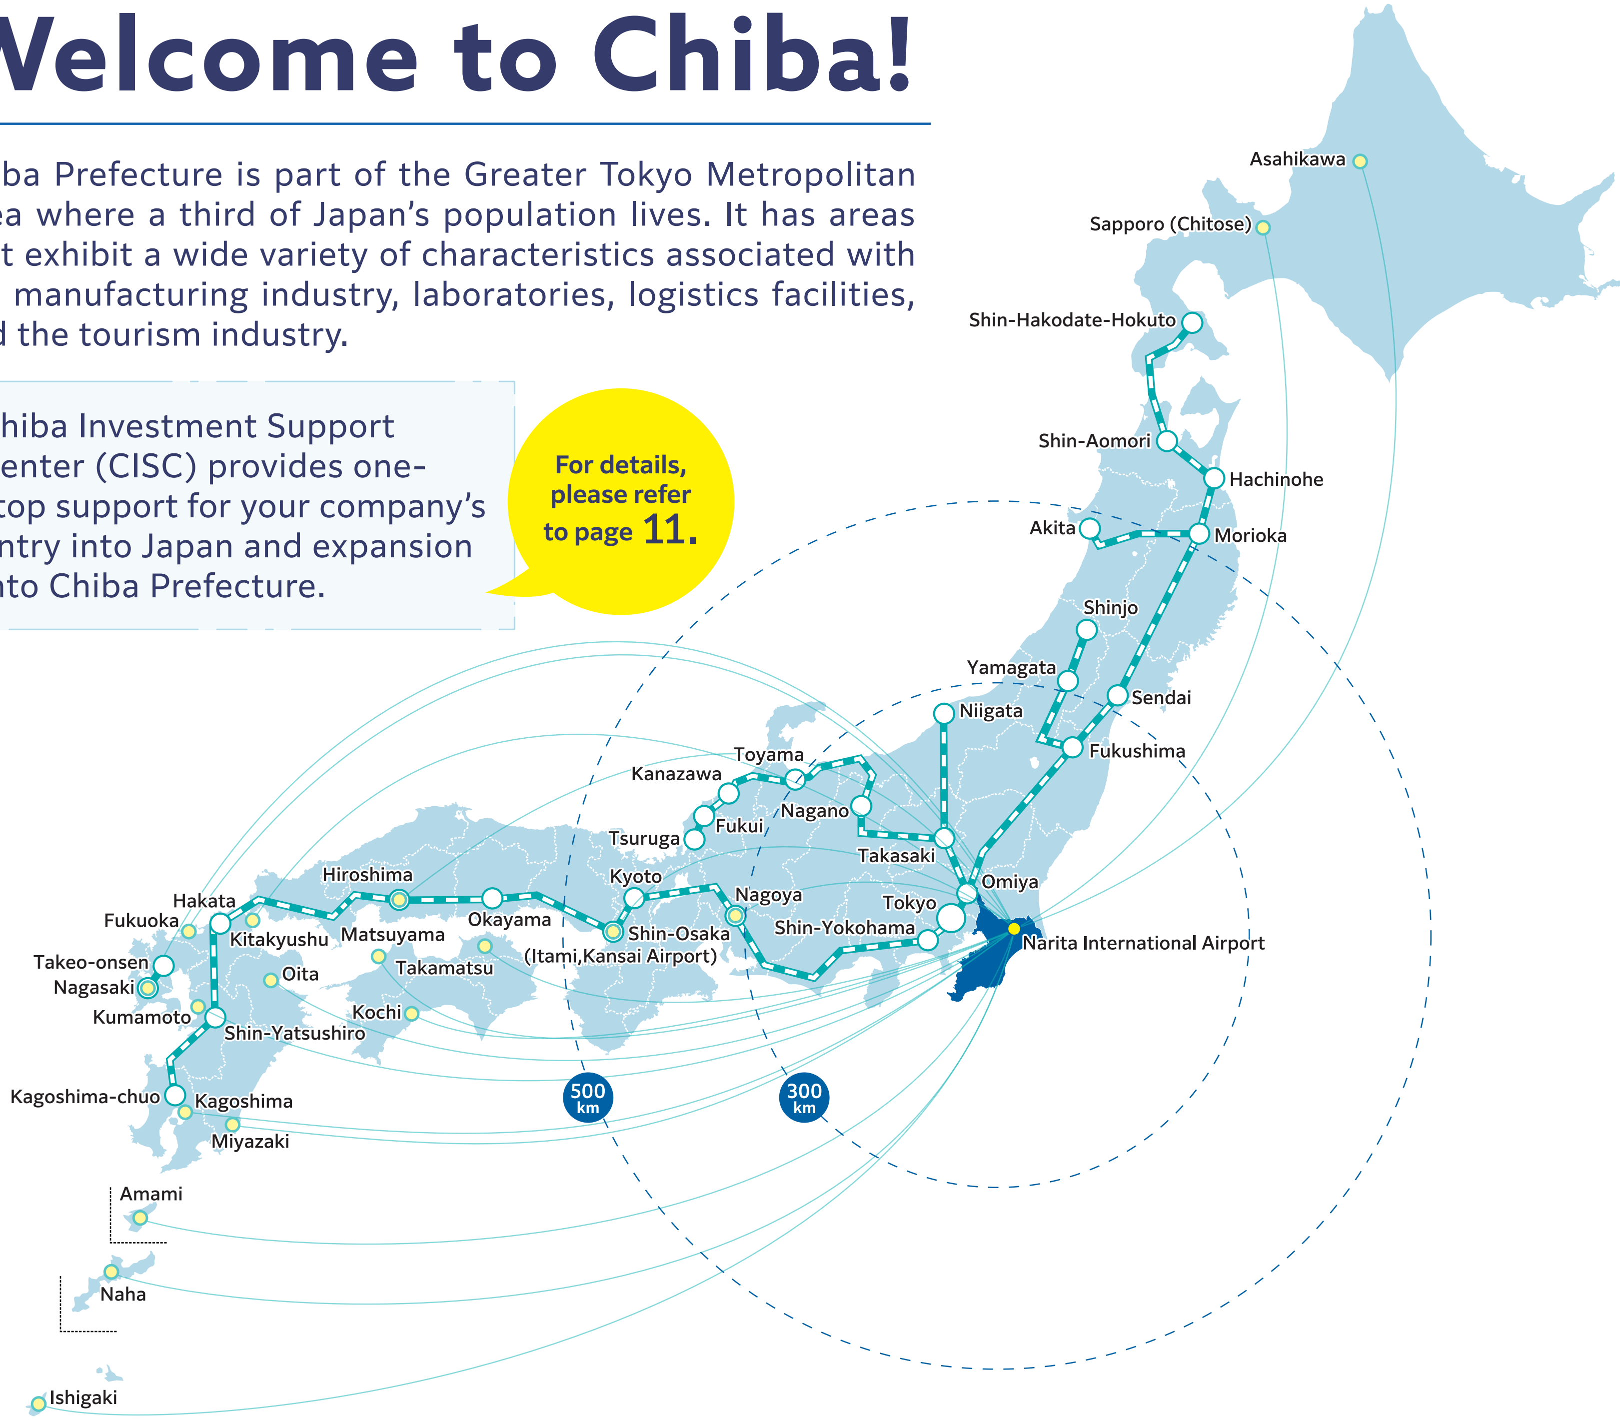
Welcome to Chiba!

Chiba Prefecture is part of the Greater Tokyo Metropolitan Area where a third of Japan's population lives. It has areas that exhibit a wide variety of characteristics associated with the manufacturing industry, laboratories, logistics facilities, and the tourism industry.

Chiba Investment Support Center (CISC) provides one-stop support for your company's entry into Japan and expansion into Chiba Prefecture.

For details, please refer to page 11.



A Well-Developed Public Transport Network with Direct Access to Tokyo

Chiba Prefecture has well-developed railway and highway bus networks that provide good access to downtown Tokyo and airports.

- Kashiwanoha-campus Sta. ↔ Akihabara Sta.: Approx. 30 min. Tsukuba Express
- Narita International Airport ↔ Nippori Sta.: Approx. 35 min. Keisei Skyliner
- Kaihin-Makuhari Sta. ↔ Tokyo Sta.: Approx. 30 min. Keiyo Line
- Kisarazu ↔ Tokyo Sta.: Approx. 60 min. highway bus
- Tateyama ↔ Tokyo Sta.: Approx. 120 min. highway bus
- Choshi Sta. ↔ Tokyo Sta.: Approx. 110 min. Shiosai express train

Reasonable Rents Right Next to Tokyo

Chiba has another big advantage—office rents here are much lower than in other cities of similar prominence. The chart below compares real estate rental prices in Chiba with those in Tokyo and major cities overseas.

Average rent: (¥ per tsubo [about 3.3 m^2] per month)

Source: Data for locations outside Chiba "Tokyo Office Market Report, November 2025" by CBRE K.K. Average rent of the two most expensive buildings in each city, reflecting the period-average rent, including common-service charges (conversion rate: US$1 = ¥150)
Data for Chiba: Advertised rent for large-scale buildings as listed in "Office Rent Data 2026" by Sanko Estate Co.,Ltd.

Chiba also boasts lower land prices than Tokyo as well as Kanagawa and Saitama, two other prefectures that border Tokyo. According to a 2025 national survey, the average price of land in Chiba (per square meter) for all uses was approximately ¥133,200—about 39 percent of the cost in Kanagawa and around 82 percent that of Saitama. The table below shows detailed results from the same survey.

Prefecture	Average price for 2025 (¥ per m^2)
	Average for all uses	Residential	Commercial	Industrial
Chiba	133,200	94,900	333,700	97,900
Tokyo	1,301,800	466,400	2,699,100	365,600
Kanagawa	345,100	205,200	766,700	140,400
Saitama	162,200	126,100	361,600	76,500

About Taxes in Japan

Definition of Terms Standard Taxable Value: Tax objects concretely expressed in number or the amount of money

Tax Category	Calculation Method (please note: exceptions apply)
Real Estate Acquisition Tax (on buildings)	Standard taxable value amount (*1) × 4%
Real Estate Acquisition Tax (on land)	Standard taxable value amount × 0.5 × 3%
Fixed Asset Tax	Standard taxable value amount × 1.4%
Corporate Enterprise Tax	Income amount × tax rate (A tax rate of between 3.5% and 7% is determined based on the amount of your income.)
Prefectural Corporate Tax	Total of income-based levy and per capita levy ・Income-based levy: Corporate tax amount (standard taxable value) (*2) × tax rate (The tax rate is 1% if the corporate tax amount is 10 million yen or less, and 1.8% in all other cases.) ・Per capita levy: A fixed amount based on the company's capital and other factors (One of the following: ¥20,000, ¥50,000, ¥130,000, ¥540,000, or ¥800,000)
Vehicle Tax (*3)	A fixed amount based on vehicle type, engine displacement, and maximum load capacity.

*1: The standard taxable value amount is not necessarily the actual purchase price; it is the amount deemed appropriate as assessed by the national or local government based on legal standards, market prices and regional conditions. If the standard taxable value amount falls below a certain threshold, it may be exempted from certain taxes.
*2: Corporate tax is a national tax. For details, please refer to the National Tax Agency website. *3: The vehicle tax is levied per vehicle.
